This is a warning to cosplayers who may come in contact with these people. Please trust your gut feelings, be aware of who you're talking to online, and to underage cosplayers adults who try to get you to sell yourself online, meet up n be friends, etc don't have your best interest in mind. It doesn't matter if they're your 'only' friends. Look out for the red flags and tell a trusted adult. All video proof will be in the twitter thread and instagram highlights, pictures in the doc.
Here are their socials and currently known information:

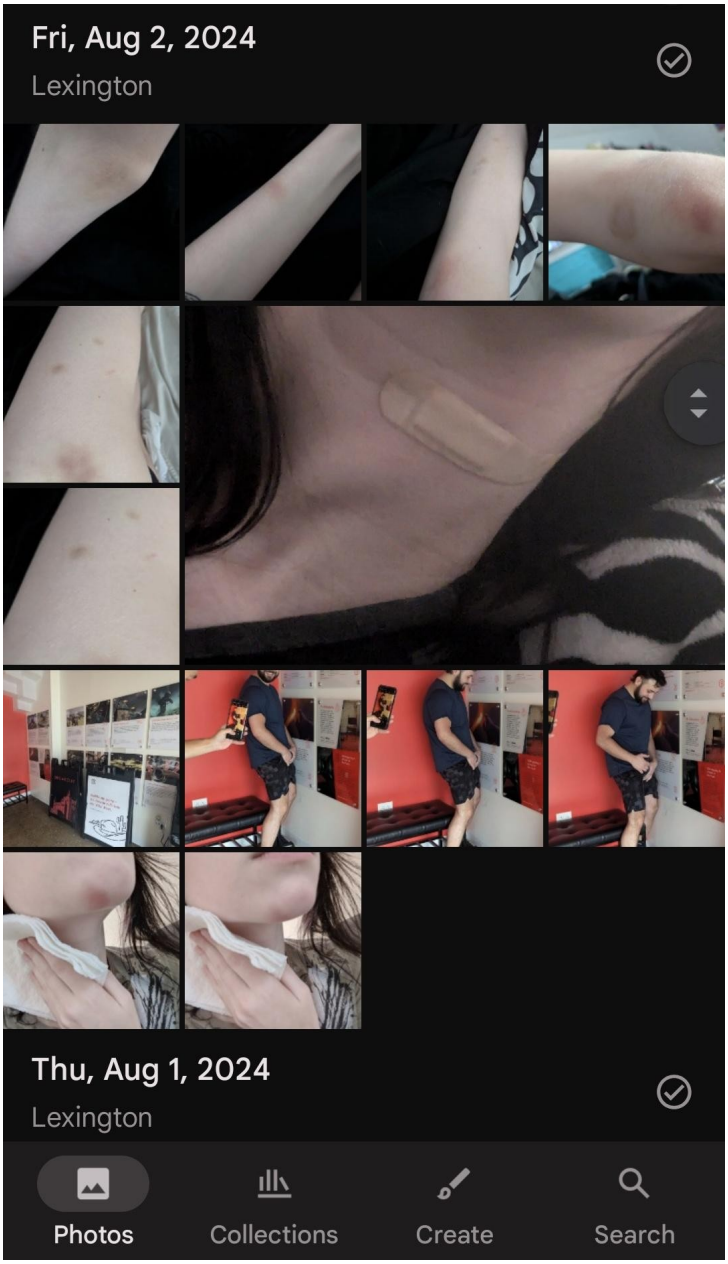
This is just my side. I've spoken up before, but due to the distress I was in, I just wanted to move on and heal. But I can't stay quiet for much longer as I'm worried for the cosplayers these freaks have been contacting. Even though I am not underage, these men have been in contact with underage cosplayers. Snake has also admitted to me that he has followed me since I was 16.

July 31st - August 2nd 2024, I was pressured to drink heavily and was then sexually assaulted by Josh with the help of Snake. Josh flew and Snake drove to Kentucky and had rented an airbnb so we could hang out. They bought me all sorts of alcohol to try, all in strawberry, knowing it was my first time drinking. As soon as we entered the airbnb, Josh and Snake suggested we all have a drink. They took me out to eat, do activities, whatever. Josh was very touchy feely, but I had physically affectionate friends like that in the past so I brushed it off. It wasn't so bad until nighttime hit, we were in the airbnb again and Josh wanted to drink again. It was glass after glass and it was all different types of alcohol. I got drunk quickly but they kept pressuring me to drink more. I remember a comment Josh made saying that it was rude in "Snake's culture to deny a drink." A joke, yea, but I didn't wanna be a downer. Even when I said I was sick and felt like I was going to throw up, I was given more alcohol. I then laid on the bed inside the room we were all in so I could cope with how sick I felt and how much pain my stomach was in. I tried to stay still so I wouldn't throw up. Josh had laid in the airbnb bed with me and held me, putting his hands inside my clothes. He touched my ass, my back, my chest. And I couldn't do anything. I couldn't even stand on my own to go to the bathroom. And then he revealed to me he had taken a BlueChew, showing me the package. Josh at one point had even gotten me in a room alone with him, please keep in mind that I was so drunk I could barely move on my own. He started to touch me the same way while talking to me, but even more. He again touched all over my body, including my vagina. He even gave me hickey when I told him to stop, too weak to push him off. When I began to cry, the touching stopped for a few minutes, but then started again. I had to beg to sleep so that he would stop. The kicker? He turned on AI narrated sermons on his phone to sleep to. Praying doesn't erase what you did to me.



They bought me a cosplay and had me try it on. I was carried downstairs, tied up, and they took pictures of me. They posed me and touched me. If you watched the youtube video on lurki, it’s mentioned that Josh and Snake had blackmail photos of me too. These were those pictures. When I cut contact with them, these photos were posted on a website called Sturdychan. This led mutuals to text me in concern, including others who were also targeted by them. This includes Snoojak. Josh and Snake claim that Snoo made me lie about this to slander them and that she made them hate me, but this is not true. This was actually the very first time Snoo had personally messaged me.

hi sorry to message about this, josh has been threatening me and freaking out at people because he is convinced i'm making girls cut him off (he thinks i made you cut him off too) it's really scary and he's spoken about you weirdly and with him posting photos of you two i just want to make sure he hasn't done anything to you this is really hard to talk about but the reason I cut him off is because when we met up he got me so drunk i could barely stand and sexually assaulted me. I haven't been online much for this reason
What has he said about me and what pictures did he post??

god that's so awful, when he posted those photos on sturdy of you with him and before he sent me this creepy photo of you tied up on a pool table. i've been worried ever since. i'm really sorry that happened he's the

In late August, Snake and Josh came back. I was too scared to cut off contact because of the images they had of me, so I tried to give them the cold shoulder. I became less active on social media, staying on private accounts and barely cosplaying. My plan was to stay silent until they lost interest, then block them. But that wasn't the case. I told them not to come over as they planned it in front of me on their discord server, even lying and saying I would be gone 2 of the 3 days they planned to be there, hoping I could somehow get out of the 3rd day and that they wouldn't know I was lying. I was unsuccessful.

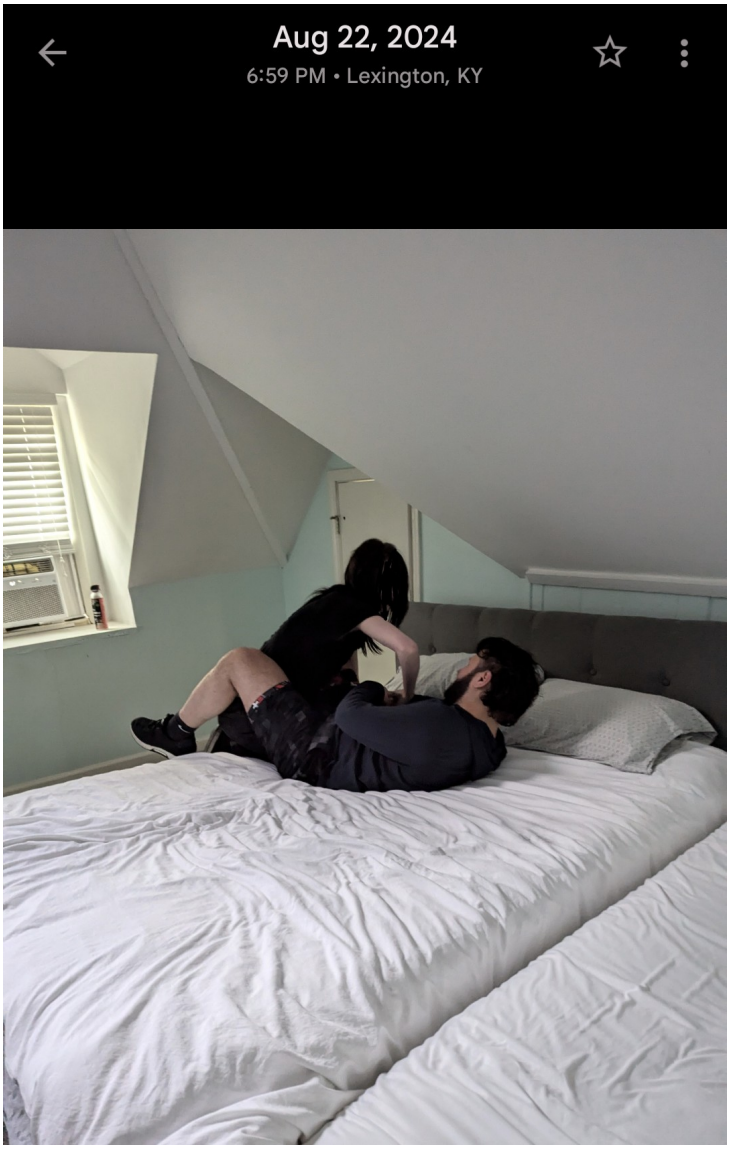
Message #glowhi...

They were parked right next to my neighbors house, begging me to come out. Stupidly, I did. I felt like I had to or else they'd get mad and try to break in. I was home alone and I'm not that physically strong so I was terrified. My mom and I share a Life360 so she can see where I'm at when I go out, so I at least felt slightly safer knowing I was easily trackable. I didn't drink, but Josh was touchy with me again, touched my chest, ass, and glided his hands over my private parts (thankfully over my jeans this time.) At one point he even stole my phone, which I was messaging my (now) ex about how scared I was. Snake even took pictures of me fighting to get my phone back. Stupid.



After that they took me to an escape room, and back home. Because playing games will def make me feel better xddddd. But while I was at the airbnb with them, they again started talking about their cosplay management team and future "egirl mansion". This is something they constantly bring up and is why I have reason to believe they're trying to make certain cosplayers sign to them and then eventually force them to do online sex work. Hell, if it was successful I believe they would go further than just online work.

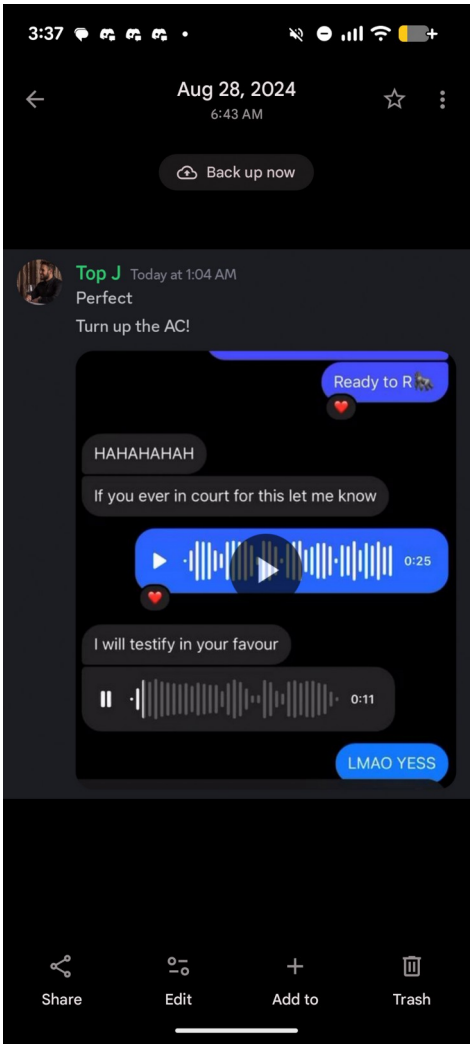
And here's Josh ‘joking’ about rape and having someone testify for him. The video for the screenrecording pictured here is in the twitter thread and on instagram.



What do these two have to do with Lurki? Well she’s managed by them, actively defends them, recruits more victims for them, and then threatens to sue said victims if they speak out. Don’t let her play ignorant and innocent because she knows exactly what she’s doing and who she’s hanging out with. It’s all for attention and money. And I hope she realizes in 2 years, when she’s irrelevant and lonely because Josh eventually crashed out on her, that it wasn’t worth it.

During the time I knew these 2 I was in a very lonely and hopeless point in my life, having these ‘friends’ made me feel like I was something. And I was so happy to finally have friends to talk to everyday again. This is why I included the warning. They look for girls like me because they know we want friendship. This document isn’t the best put together, but I’m sick of their behavior and sick of them claiming I’m lying.

There's even more women involved along with lurki.

@niichama
@serbianschizo
@semipoggers

To say my mental health was ruined would be an understatement. I’m scared to even talk to followers and mutuals because it could be someone involved with Josh and Snake. I don’t post much because I feel like they’re always watching. I blame myself everyday and go over the better choices I could’ve made. Some days I feel nothing, some days I feel nothing but pain. Violated and dirty. It gets so bad sometimes it causes headaches. It’s been taking me awhile to even feel like my old, confident self again. I don’t want anyone to go through what I have. Just be cautious of the people who approach you.

Edit: From a trusted source and ex associate of Josh, I was sent these screenshots of Josh talking about the meetup. I was also sent more photos.

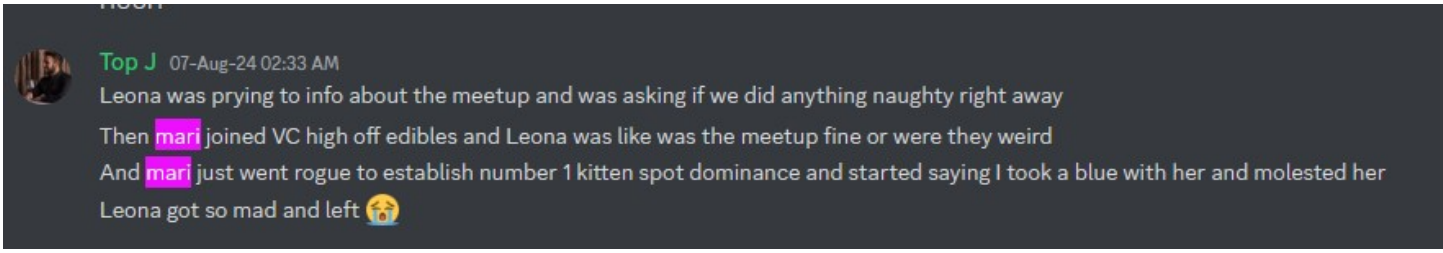
Rape kink but fights off so hard , insane hoe😭



Top J 07-Aug-24 02:33 AM
Leona was prying to info about the meetup and was asking if we did anything naughty right away
Then mari joined VC high off edibles and Leona was like was the meetup fine or were they weird
And mari just went rogue to establish number 1 kitten spot dominance and started saying I took a blue with her and molested her
Leona got so mad and left 😭

“Rape kink but fights off so hard”
He freely talked about what happened, even when I tried hunting at what was done to me in an uncomfortable vc.

Update: After this document, I got dms from 2 trusted mutuals about how Josh was open (yet vague) about what he's been doing to girls, especially me. Several photos of me were sent to people over discord, privately and in someone's public server. I can't post all of them because some of the pictures I rather not have on the internet because they are mid assault. I am drunk in all of these photos.

Lurki14’s bullying and racism

I'm making a separate section for this because I know most people don't care, also bullying isn't part of my case, but I've been asked to share. Lurki/Jasmin has an alt account where she has been seen qrting other cosplayers with mean comments, she also does this over text and discord. She knows what she’s doing and she’s just like Snake and Josh.

I wasn't sure if I should trust this at first, but I have proof this is someone who knew you.

Hey this is lurk can you contact me somewhere to talk about this 1 on 1? Its very weird to go post and publicly defaming me like this. But if youre willing to let your side be heard id be glad to hear you out on why you feel this way. otherwise this is character defamation and I will need to take legal action against it. You are inventing an issue for yourself. No need to be doing all that, so maybe we can figure it out privately

why did you use my pictures and my friends pictures on your instagram to sell your passes and scam others ? this isn't character defamation if it's true and there's proof, if you try to sue me i'll sue you back because i have all the proof i need
Oct 7, 2:14 PM
I dont know what you consider proof, but whatever information you think that you have is wrong, i dont know if youre aware of this, but a screenshot of a random claim someone made up is not valid evidence in the courts. To be sharing this information out there as if it were true, this should be proven in court. Which it is not, and it cannot be, as the claimants have never pursu gal action since they know themselves it is

Which it is not, and it cannot be, as the claimants have never pursued legal action since they know themselves it is not true. You can not sue me for anything, as i have not done anything to you. On the other hand you are defaming my character using serious claims and you are damaging my image which is connected to the company. This, if it shall be kept up, can directly affect my income, and i will have to sue you for the damages you have caused.

you can get someone's information if they defame you on social media, often by first gathering evidence like screenshots and then seeking legal counsel to sue or potentially use a court order to obtain the information. I have funds available if i need to resort to this, saying things like these on the internet, even if your true identity is hidden, does not make invincible.
Using my pictures and videos for gain and money is something you've done against me as well as others youve used the videos of and I'm going to keep the story up because your scare tactics won't do anything to me and if you really mean it then tell me yourself and not one of your mods.

with my manager tho its much easier to keep up with and actually lucrative, cos lots of messages n requests to follow with, i wouldnt recommend that much without like a business linked to it bc i think they rly stay on top of taxes and shit and i dont have to deal w that stuff thankfully with the management structure that takes care of all that
